PROJECTS

Bike Rack Chicago - web application for finding bike racks in the Chicago area

jmbehlmann.github.io/bike-rack-chicago-frontend/

- Utilized Google Maps platform and React components for an interactive map interface, offering users a seamless experience in exploring bike rack locations.
- Integrated Google Maps JavaScript API and Places API for address autocomplete to enhance user search functionality and provide accurate location suggestions.
- Deployed the Ruby on Rails backend with a PostgreSQL database on Heroku, allowing efficient retrieval of bike rack data from the City of Chicago dataset.
- Implemented frontend deployment on GitHub Pages, ensuring accessibility and visibility of the project to a wider audience.
